The Magickal Hexagram or Unicursal Hexagram symbolizes the union of the human with the divine. As with the hexagram used in the Solomon's Seal, this six-pointed star represents "as above, so below," but because this symbol is formed of only one line, rather than 2, it further represents that above and below, human and divine are One. The Unicursal Hexagram is particularly used by those practicing Thelema and Golden Dawn. It offers a protective and unbroken or gateless center in its pattern & has been thus used by OTO & Alastair Crowley. He claimed to have been the originator of the symbol, though research indicates that to be incorrect.

The Star of David or Solomon's Seal is also known also as the Jewish Star and the Magen (or Mogen) David. The symbol predates Judaism, and symbolically means "as above, so below." It is a symbol of perfect peace and balance of the higher and lower selves. This intertwined hexagram (six-sided star) is formed of two intertwined triangles. It speaks of the macrocosm/microcosm; saying that what takes place on the material earth plane also takes place in the realm of Spirit...also representing the polarities of fire/water, masculine/feminine, active/passive, heaven/earth. In yogic tradition it represents the heart chakra and the power of air, and the symbol carries over into the Sri Yantra – the original sound of the universe - or Perfect "OM". In runic workings it is the triple dagaz, and represents protected transformation. The number 6 is additionally connected to the goddess/planet Venus and the power to love. In the Quaballah it is Tiph-Ereth and is found at the center of the Tree of Life, signifying the Sun – the fusion of spirit with matter in balance – giving great energy. Very positive & decisive, energy radiates outward from the center with exuberance & joy.
